

Maria Uspenski is the founder of The Tea Spot, where her mission is to advance healthier living through the everyday enjoyment of whole leaf tea. The Boulder, Colorado based company donates ten percent of all profits in-kind to cancer survivors and community wellness. Recent developments at the company include blends with adaptogens and CBD. Uspenski is the author of "Cancer Hates Tea", published by Page Street Books in 2016, and was recognized as the "Top Tea Health Advocate" at the 2017 World Tea Expo. She is featured at conferences nationwide, in the print media, on television, radio and podcast interviews for her success as a social entrepreneur and certified tea and fitness nutrition expert.